

PEDAGOGICAL INNOVATION

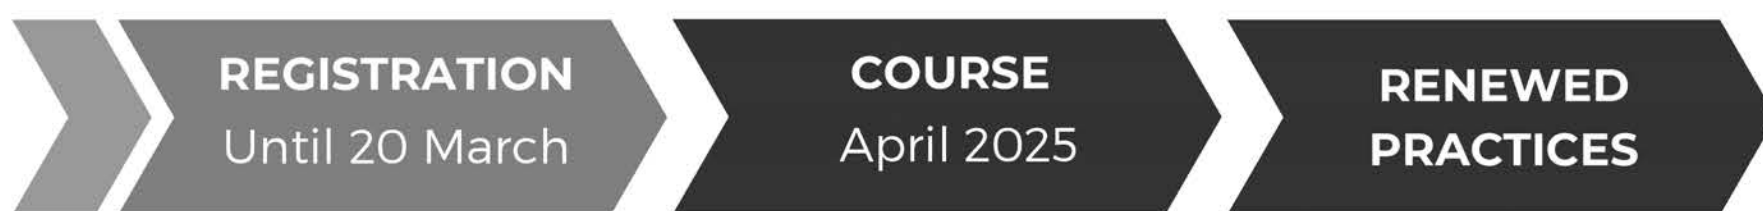

Online Live Workshop

Podcasting: how to make a nonfiction podcast

April 2025

DESIGN, STRUCTURE AND PRODUCE YOUR OWN PODCAST.
HOST AND DISSEMINATE THE EPISODES, BOTH IN AUDIO AND VIDEO FORMAT!

Pre-requisites

- Teaching staff or pedagogical staff

How to register

- <https://forms.office.com/e/5esJVJg0eQ>

Podcasting: how to make a nonfiction podcast

WORKSHOP

NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS

- 15 max.

DURATION

- 5 sessions (2 hours each)

OBJECTIVE

- To provide tools that enable teachers to devise, structure, and produce a podcast, consolidating their work with the hosting and dissemination of the different episodes, both in audio and video format.

SUMMARY

- Participants will learn to identify and apply different typologies, styles, and techniques (focusing on narrative non-fiction, which uses reportage and documentary techniques). These skills aim to create a sound and visual identity for the podcasts, generating a creative and collaborative environment, albeit online.
- Creating podcasts can be an innovative strategy to diversify teaching methods, facilitating communication and interaction with students in the distance learning environment.
- Additionally, podcasts can be proposed as assignments for students, encouraging them to create their own episodes as part of educational activities, thus promoting active learning and the development of communication skills.